CORRECTION

In the May 10 issue of FOLIO, the report on the General Faculties Council meeting of April 30 contained an error regarding the "Revised University Research Policy." The report should have read as follows:

At the same meeting Council approved a revision to the University's research policy affecting the limitation on publication.

The revised policy is as follows:

"When a member of staff requests research funds from government, industry, foundations, business, or professional organizations, or is asked to use his professional skills on their behalf and the acceptance of such an undertaking means that the University is expected to provide facilities, space, equipment, or administrative assistance; or when the funds are used to support activities in which students or postdoctoral fellows are engaged as part of their educational experience, the University considers the activity to be part of the University's pattern of research.

"The University recognizes that one of the main purposes of University research is the discovery and dissemination of new knowledge. University research, therefore, which is pursued under conditions which restrict publication is not compatible with University policy, and any exception to this principle shall be subject to formal review procedures by the General Faculties Council Committee on Research.

"All research theses accepted in partial fulfilment of degree requirements shall be accessible in the University Library, unless the Graduate Faculty Council shall have voted that a particular thesis should not be generally available."

SPRING CONVOCATION

The University of Alberta will award four honorary degrees at the 1973 Spring Convocation ceremonies which commence Monday, May 28 and continue through Thursday, May 31.

More than 3,700 students will receive degrees during the four-part convocation. Graduands at Part One, on May 28, will be from the Faculty of Education, the School of Household Economics, and the School of Library Science. An Honorary Doctor of Laws degree will be conferred upon MAURICE STRONG, who served as Secretary to the United Nations World Conference on the Environment last year and who is presently with the United Nations Secretariat in Geneva, Switzerland. Mr. Strong will deliver the Convocation Address.

At Part Two, on May 29, DORIS ANDERSON, Editor of Chatelaine, will receive an Honorary Doctor of Laws degree and will deliver the Convocation Address to graduands of the Faculties of Business Administration and Commerce, Engineering, and Science. Ms. Anderson received a BA from this University in 1945. She is a member of the board of MacLean-Hunter Publishing Company and the Board of Governors of York University.

The University will award its first Honorary Doctor of Letters degree at Part Three, on May 30. The degree is given in recognition of outstanding contributions in the humanities. The recipient will be F. E. L. PRIESTLEY, who obtained his BA and MA from this University and was a Professor at the University of Toronto for 26 years before retiring in 1972. He is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada and the Royal Society of Literature. Professor Priestley will address graduands of Collège Universitaire Saint-Jean and the Faculties of Agriculture and Forestry, Arts, Law, and Physical Education.

JOHN GEORGE STRACHAN, former Director of the Alcoholism Foundation of Alberta, will receive an Honorary Doctor of Laws degree at Part Four of the sixty-third annual convocation, May 31. He also will deliver the Convocation Address. Mr. Strachan has contributed to the planning and development of programs for alcoholics for more than 20 years and has written several books on alcoholism. Degrees will be conferred upon students from Dentistry, Dental Hygiene, Graduate Studies and Research, Medical Laboratory Science, Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences, and Rehabilitation Medicine.

Convocation ceremonies will be held at the Northern Alberta Jubilee Auditorium, beginning each day at 2 p.m.

LECTURE SERIES HONORS PROFESSOR OF CHEMISTRY

The 1973 Reuben Benjamin Sandin Lecture Series, initiated 11 years ago by the Department of Chemistry, will begin Tuesday, May 29 and continue through June 1.

This year's lecturer will be RONALD BRESLOW, the S. L. Mitchill Professor of Chemistry at Columbia University. Through his work on biological reaction mechanisms, Dr. Breslow has made significant contributions in the area of model enzyme reactions and co-ordination chemistry. He has studied the synthesis of aromatic and anti-aromatic systems and has, as well, published books on physical organic chemistry. He holds three degrees from Harvard University—an AB summa cum laude in Chemistry, an AM in Biochemistry, and a PhD in Organic Chemistry. Prior to accepting a position at Columbia in 1956, he spent one year at Cambridge University as a National Research Fellow with Sir Alexander Todd.

The lecture series was established to commemorate the more than 40 years of service rendered to this University by Reuben Sandin, Professor Emeritus of Chemistry. Lecture topics are announced in "This Week and Next."

CONTINUING EDUCATION IN PHARMACY

The Faculty of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences and the Division of Continuing Education of the Faculty of Medicine are together sponsoring programs to be held at different locations in the province to provide continuing education for pharmacists in various areas of their professional duties. For instance, pharmacists in country districts find that much of their work is concerned with filling prescriptions by veterinarians. With this in mind, a special one day program has been arranged entitled "Diseases of cattle," which will be held at the Community College in Grande Prairie on May 27. This program, co-sponsored by the Alberta Pharmaceutical Association, is expected to be attended by pharmacists, research workers, and interested students. ROY SAITO, a veterinarian, and lecturer in the Faculty of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences, has been largely responsible for organizing the program, and his speakers include the president of the Canadian Veterinary Medical Association and staff members of the Western College of Veterinary Medicine at Saskatoon. D. F. BIGGS, Assistant Professor, who is in charge of continuing education for the Faculty of Pharmacy, will be one of the moderators.

The program, "Drugs in congestive heart failure," will be held in Medicine Hat on June 6, when M. W. WOLOWYK, Assistant Professor of Pharmacology at this University, will be talking to pharmacists and other interested persons about the use of drugs involved in the treatment of congestive heart failure which have a high potential for toxicity. Dr. Wolowyk will discuss the use of these agents, their contraindications, and the precautions needed for safe use.

A third program, on "Gout," is to be held in Red Deer on June 10.

BOOKS

Alberta Vireos and Wood Warblers is a new bird book by W. RAY SALT, Professor Emeritus of Anatomy and co-author of the best-selling Birds of Alberta. Published by the Provincial Museum and Archives at $4.50, it is a detailed account of the distribution, migration, and breeding of four vireos and 30 wood warblers found in Alberta. Each bird is illustrated in color plates by LUDO C. E. BOGAERT of the Provincial Museum. To aid the bird watcher, the illustrations show vireos and wood warblers in the autumn when their plumage colors are subdued and identification is difficult. Wall charts of the color illustrations are also available at $2 for a set of two.

VISITORS

■ Seminars were given to the Theoretical Physics Institute by D. Y. KIM, University of Saskatchewan, Regina Campus; H. J. VAN ZUYLEN, Natuurkundig Laboratorium der Vrije Universiteit, Amsterdam-Buitenveldert, the Netherlands, and by C. S. LAM of McGill University.
